Involvement in school activities and community (including the 10 negotiated days)

Details of the pre-service teacher's involvement in the total school program (e.g. assistance with camps and/or excursions, performances, sporting activities, clubs and societies, involvement in assemblies, yard duty, staff and faculty meetings, involvement in areas of interest and expertise, and knowledge of the day to day administration of the school).

Kelly is to be applauded for the enthusiastic manner in which she has approached her final teaching rounds. Kelly has immersed herself in the daily life of the college. She attended parent teacher interviews, staff, pastoral and faculty meetings, assisted in subject counselling of students and yard duty and lunchtime detentions. Kelly planned and implemented assessment tasks as well as taking an active role in marking student outcomes. Kelly assisted with the junior school swimming program and built a strong rapport with all students. Kelly was/is a valuable member of the staff netball team. I wish Kelly all the best in what I am sure will be a successful career as a teacher.

Professional Placement Assessment Report – Semester 2

Assessing achievement

The report assesses development against items that have been informed by the Graduate Teacher Standards, as these relate to a pre-service teacher's readiness of to work as a teaching professional.

Please place a tick (☑) in the appropriate column for each of the items and a comment underneath which supports your judgement of the stage reached.

Beginning (Beg)                      Consolidating (Cons)                      Graduate level (Grad)

This assessment acknowledges that learning to teach is a continuum and that pre-service teacher's move across three stages of learning: from beginning, consolidating and graduate.

By Beginning, we mean that a pre-service teacher knows the importance of the item and can explain their understanding of it in a particular practice context. They should be able to identify this item or gather evidence on it through explicit and focused observation and reflective practice in discussion with others (peers, mentor/s, supervisors).

By Consolidating, we mean that a pre-service teacher can explain their own understanding of an item and has developed strategies to demonstrate what this item looks like in their own practice. They can identify their own professional learning goals against the item and seek support to build their expertise.

By Graduate level we mean that a pre-service teacher clearly demonstrates evidence of the item in their own practice and is 'ready to teach'. It is an acknowledgement that this stage is also a continuation of their professional learning as teachers.

By Not Appropriate we mean that the item does not apply or is not relevant to the pre-service teacher at this time.

Development and progress will vary across placement blocks. For example, it is expected that a pre-service teacher's progress will reflect more confidence and consolidation during their final placement experiences than during their first. However, in each placement period, pre-service teachers will not only build on their experience in their earlier placements but also begin again, putting new ideas and skills into practice.

It is important that mentor teachers provide evidence to support their observations for each of the standards. This report forms part of the pre-service teacher's formative assessment. Therefore, for Semester 1, it is important that mentor teachers relate details of performance at this stage of the pre-service teacher's learning and development.

Important information

1. As per the Monash APEx model for professional experience, this report should be used by both the mentor teacher and the pre-service teacher as a guide to recording the pre-service teacher's teaching and involvement in the life of the school. Please include particular reference to the PST's involvement in day to day administrative activities as well as other activities including camps and/or excursions, performances, sporting activities, clubs and societies and various areas of interest and expertise. We value greatly detailed information about how the PST participated in the breadth and complexity of teacher's work.
2. This report should describe and evaluate the PST's professional learning against the graduate standards as demonstrated by both their developing teaching practice (as seen during the block placement) and by their engagement in other aspects of teachers' work (as seen during the negotiated days).
3. This report should be completed on or before the last day of placement and discussed with the pre-service teacher prior to signing.
4. If problems arise during the placement, mentor/mentor teachers are requested to contact the Professional Experience Office immediately rather than wait until the time to submit the report.
